BETH AVRAHAM YOSEPH OF TORONTO CONGREGATION

PARSHAS VAESCHANAN - ואתחנן

13 AV 5770 / JULY 23 - 24, 2010
SHABBOS NACHAMU

SHORT VORT

The twin prohibitions of neither adding nor subtracting from the Torah, are mentioned in Va'etchanan and again in R'ei (where they are counted among the 613). The Vilna Gaon points out that the plural form is used one time and the singular form is used in the other case. This, he says, alludes to two different aspects of these prohibitions. It is forbidden to add to or subtract from a particular mitzva - for example, one may not take 5 species or 3 species on Sukkot for the fulfillment of the mitzva of "Lulav & Etrog". Nor may one add or subtract to the total of the mitzvot. To treat a Rabbinic mitzva as a Torah law, or vice versa, would be an example of the other aspect of these prohibitions.

Hachnassas Orchim OPEN YOUR HEART AND OPEN YOUR HOME Welcoming Guests

Chazal have promised great blessings to those who welcome guests into their homes. It is counted amongst the mitzvot that one 'receives the fruit from in this world, but his capital remains undiminished in the World to Come'.

Please take advantage of the opportunity to host a visitor or guest for a Shabbat or Yom Tov meal. This will give you an opportunity to meet new people and form new friendships. Many members have enjoyed hosting guests and have made new friends. We need more people to join this program now. If you would like to be an invited guest or would like to host a guest or family please contact us today.
